ONE-TO-ONE START RIGHT PUPPY TRAINING

Each dog and family is unique and even though some behaviour actions are common amongst dogs, it is the individuality of the environment that the new pup will be living in that makes any issue personal.

Getting the best out of your pup starts from the first day you bring him or her home. We can give you guidance which will help your pup integrate easily into your family's lifestyle and help with any practical solutions you may be struggling with in having your new friend adapt to a new life with you and your family.

Issues can include (but not be limited to)

Toilet training
Sleeping arrangements
Setting good foundations for future activities
Feeding regimes
Integration with young family members
Practical solutions for socialisation
Dealing with those sharp inquisitive teeth

We come to you so that we can help you with the best living arrangements to suit your needs while raising your pup the way you want to.

Due to our extensive experience, knowledge and credentials we can offer honest, caring and practical solutions that you will find easy to implement. We look to cater any changes that may be required to cause as minimal disruption to your lifestyle, while being of the most benefit to you and your pup.
